As the year comes to an end, Strychnin Gallery saved the month of December for a special exhibition, Metropolitan. Metropolitan is an important rendition of today's development. With the passing of each moon, we become more united with the world surrounding us. Thanks to technology, we are able to stay in contact and keep up to date with people and events 16099.88 km away from us.

Now, Berlin artist, Christian Rothenhagen, will bring us "back to the roots" and delight us with a new medium of staying up to date: the drawing. We have long forgotten this mean, by which our forefathers wrote, archived and revisited history. Strychnin will exhibit Mr. Rothenhagen's depiction of the streets of Berlin, but we will also offer viewers to look through the eyes of this artist and visit the cities of San Francisco and Toronto. The space will become an album, displaying images "frozen in time". It will be like looking through a traveller's personal snapshots; something so intimate, which is emphasized by the unusual angles Christian Rothenhagen chooses to admire and bring to life. His special eye enables him to pick corners of otherwise unstriking places and through his delicate line technique transform them into aesthetic wonder-spots. With this collection, Christian is opening up his personal journal and letting us get lost in his world.

Moreover, Christian enabled an array of other artists to display their works, as well. Strychnin Gallery will present a groupshow, curated by Mr. Rothenhagen himself. The concept is to collect and exhibit interpretations of urban landscapes by different artists and cherish the diversity of our society. There will be over thirty international artists participating.

Christian will also be releasing his new book; a limited edition on 150 copies, signed and numbered, box-set that comes with a CD and sticker. The vernissage will be on the 7th of December at 7 p.m. and the show runs until the 2nd of February.
